

Memorial Services will be 12:00 noon at the Shiloh Baptist Church, 238 Bright Ave., Campbell, for Mr. Max James Faison, 62, of Pittsburgh, PA.

born Mr. Faison, affectionately known as “Mackie”, was October 21, 1952 in Hubbard, Ohio, a son of Robert Sr. and Francis Stubblefield Faison. He was a 1970 graduate of Hubbard High School and received two Associate degrees in Business from the West Virginia Community College. He had been employed as a fireman with the Youngstown Fire Department. He loved the game of tennis; enjoyed jazz music, baseball and was an avid Pittsburgh Pirates fan. Max served as a medic in Army during the Vietnam era.

He leaves to cherish his memory three children, Melanie Rudolph-Ross and James “Champ” Kershaw both of Youngstown, and Jessica M. Faison of Ft. Wayne, Indiana; a sister, Pauline Sibley of Columbus, Ohio; a brother, John Faison of Youngstown; eight grandchildren; a host of nieces and nephews including two special nieces who were raised with him as his sisters, Denise Faison of Hubbard and Gail (Rev. Ricky) Tigner of Youngstown; and other family and friends.

Besides his parents, he was preceded in death by a sister, Thomasina Harper; and four brothers, Robert (Marguerite) Jr. who reared him, Howard, Charles and Fred Faison.

There are no calling hours. Arrangements entrusted to the L. E. Black, Phillips & Holden Funeral Home.
